

CONTENTS

	page
List of figures and tables	xi
1. Introduction
Flavia Cortelezzi and Alessandro Ferrari	1
1. Premise	1
2. Contemporary Issues in Islamic Law, Economics and Finance: the Analysis	2
2.1. First Section: Fundamentals and Comparative Perspectives	3
2.2. Second Section: Fundamentals of Mediterranean Economics and Finance	4
2.3. Third Section: Banking, Finance and Business Opportunities	4
About the Author/Editor	6

First Section

FUNDAMENTALS AND COMPARATIVE PERSPECTIVES

1. Reconciling Islam and Finance: Challenges in Integrating Muslims into Financial Markets

Murat Çokgezen	13
1. Introduction	13
2. Islamic Restrictions on Financial Deals	14
3. Continuing with Conventional Instruments	17
4. Creating Islamic Alternatives	20
5. How Islamic are “Islamic” Financial Instruments?	23
6. Muslims and Islamic Financial Instruments	26
7. Conclusion	27
References	29

	page
2. When can Finance be Called ‘Islamic’? Reflections on the Relation between Islamic Ethics, Law and Economics	31
Deborah Scolart
1. Law as a Guide for the Believer	31
2. Homo Economicus Islamicus	35
3. Unlawful Gains v. Lawful Contracts	38
References	42
3. Preconditions and Suggestions for Islamic Finance to Generate Sustained Economic Growth	45
Murat Çizakça
1. Introduction	45
2. Pre-conditions	46
3. Modest Contribution of Islamic Banking to Economic Development	47
4. The Real Potential	48
5. Waqfs, Universities and Venture Capital	52
6. Esham and Public Debt	53
7. Conclusion	55
References	55

Second Section

FUNDAMENTALS OF MEDITERRANEAN ECONOMICS AND FINANCE

1. The Economics and Finance of the Middle East and North Africa
Jamus Jerome Lim
1. Introduction	59
2. A Brief Economic History of the Region	60
3. The Emergence of the Modern Middle East	62
4. The Structure of MENA Economies Today	64
5. Financial Development in MENA	65
6. The MENA Region in Comparative Perspective	66
7. The Sovereign Wealth Funds of the MENA Region	67
8. Investment Strategies of MENA SWFs	69
9. Real-World Portfolio Allocation in a Typical MENA SWF	70
10. MENA’s Economic Future	72
References	75

2. The EU Cooperation Policy with the Northern African Mediterranean Countries and the Middle East

Giuseppe Colangelo	77
1. Introduction	77
2. From the Early Cooperative Instruments to the Barcelona Process	80
3. Two New Instruments in the 2000's: the European Neighbourhood Policy and the Union for the Mediterranean	83
4. The Recent Changes in the European Neighbourhood Policy	86
5. An Overview of the Trade Flows across the Mediterranean Sea	88
6. Conclusions	89
References	90

Third Section

BANKING, FINANCE AND BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES

1. Global Islamic Finance: Principles and Products

Flavia Cortelezzi	95
1. Introduction	95
2. The Geography of Islamic Finance	98
3. Reasons for Growth	104
4. Principles and Pillars of Islamic Economic Model	106
5. From Principles to Product	109
5.1. Profit and Loss Financing Products	109
5.2. Non-Profit and Loss Financing Products	110
5.3. Sukuk	111
5.4. Takaful	112
6. Problems and Perspectives	112
References	113

2. Framework and Functioning of the Islamic Bank and Differences with Conventional Banks

Paolo Biancone and Silvana Secinaro	115
1. Islamic Banking Systems	115
2. Islamic Bank Regulation	117
3. Concepts and Principles Underlying Islamic Banking Activity and the Supply of Financial Products	119
4. Islamic Bank versus Traditional Bank	121

	page
5. Islamic Equity Crowdfunding	124
References	126
3. Marketing of Islamic Banks
Cedomir Nestorovic	129
1. Introduction	129
2. Marketing Environment for Islamic Banks	130
3. Marketing Concepts for Islamic Banks	135
3.1. STP for Islamic Banks	135
3.2. Ansoff's Matrix for Islamic Banks	137
3.3. Communication for Islamic Banks	140
3.4. Controversies	143
4. Conclusion	144
Marketing of Islamic Banks, References	145
4. Islamic Finance to Enhance Business Opportunities: Private Investment
Michael J.T. McMillen	147
1. Introduction	147
2. Considerations at Inception	148
3. Murabaha	150
4. Lease (Ijara) in Real Estate Investments	155
5. Lease (Ijara) in Private Equity	161
6. Opportunities	164
References	164
5. Islamic Finance to Enhance Business Opportunities: Capital Markets
Michael J.T. McMillen	169
1. Introduction	169
2. Dow Jones Fatwa	169
2.1. Principles	169
3. Sukuk	176
3.1. Basics	176
3.2. Market Issuances	179
4. Opportunities	185
References	187

6. Application of the Legal Principles of Islamic Finance to Our Legal System

Fabrizio Vismara	191
1. Implementation of Sari'ah Principles as a Result of Recourse to Foreign Law	191
2. Comparative Aspects between the Principles of Islamic Finance and Italian Law	193
3. Islamic Financial Products: Hints of Consistency with Italian Law	195
4. The Italian Offer of Islamic Financial Products	198
References	199
 Index	 203

