

Our planet is facing massive economic and social challenges: religion, economy, state politics, international and religious rights, and soft rules are all part of this transformation, which combines in a new way modern and contemporary paradigms.

By focusing on Islamic finance, this book explores how contemporary organizations implement strategies for integrating economic growth with financial stability and interact, as factors of “economic pluralism”, with other “justice-oriented” economic approaches.

By adopting a multidisciplinary approach, the book also analyses how laws, economics, and finance affect the evolution of the financial system and transform economic instruments such as funds and contracts, which are crucial for creating new business opportunities. The practice of Islamic finance and banking will be analysed in details through the lenses offered by studies of economics and management.

Flavia Cortelezzi, Associate Professor of Political Economy, Department of Law, Economics and Culture, Insubria University, Italy.

Alessandro Ferrari, Full Professor of Law and Religion, Department of Law, Economics and Culture, Insubria University, Italy.

 Routledge
Taylor & Francis Group
www.routledge.com

Routledge titles are available as eBook editions in a range of digital formats

an informa business

CONTEMPORARY ISSUES IN ISLAMIC LAW, ECONOMICS AND FINANCE
Flavia Cortelezzi, Alessandro Ferrari

Routledge

Routledge-Giappichelli Religions, Laws and Economies in the Mediterranean Space

CONTEMPORARY ISSUES IN ISLAMIC LAW, ECONOMICS AND FINANCE

A MULTIDISCIPLINARY APPROACH

Edited by
Flavia Cortelezzi and Alessandro Ferrari

G. Giappichelli Editore

